Choice Poetry.

IMPERISHABLE.

The pure, the bright, the beautiful,
That stirred our hearts in youth,
The impulse to a worthless prayer,
The dreams of love and truth;
The longings after something lost,
The heart's burning cry, The strivings after better hopes—
These things shall never die.

The timid hand stretched forth to aid A brother in his need,
The kindly word in grief's dark hour That gives a friend indeed—The plea for mercy, softly breathed, When Justice threatens high,
The sorrow of a contrite heart—
These things shall never die.

The memory of a chiding hand,
That proved a friend indeed—
And all the trifles, sweet and frail, That make up life's first bliss;
If, with a firm, unchanging faith,
We hold our trust undimmed,
These things shall never die.

The cruel and the bitter word,
That wounded as it fell,
The chilling want of sympathy, We feel, but never tell,
The hard repulse that chills the heart Whose hopes are bounding high, In an untimely word kept—
These things shall never die.

Let nothing pass, for every day Must find some work to do; Love not a chance to weaken love—Be firm, be just, and true.
So shall a light that cannot fade Beam down from thee on high,
And angel voices say to thee,
"These things shall never die."

THE BACHELOR'S COMPLAINT.
They're stepping off, the friends I know, They're going, one by one;
They're taking wives to take their lives,
And leaving me alone.

I can't get one old crony now
To join me in a spree;
I've got no grown-up domestic men—They look as green as me.

I hate to see them sobered down,
The merry boys and true;
I hate to hear them suggesting now At pictures fancy drew.

I care not for their married cheer, Their puddings and their soups,
And their fondling groups,
In their familiar groups.

And though their wives may have A comely sort of face,
And at the table's upper end Conduct themselves with grace,

I hate to see them in their rooms,
The merry boys and true;
The caution and the state—And hate to see my friends grow vain Of furniture and plate.

Oh, give me back the days again When we have wandered free, And the dew-drops from every flower—
The fruit from every tree.

The friends I loved—they will not come,
They've all deserted me;
The friends I loved—they will not come,
They've all deserted me.

Look stupid and sign their tea, Alas! alas! for the days gone by,
And for the friends I've lost;
When no warm throb of the heart Were chilled by early frost.

If these be the friends I've lost, I'll And all be lost in store, Unlaid be quench his torch I'll live Henceforth a bachelor!

Wear a Smile.
Which will you do, smile and make Others happy, or be crabbed, and make everybody around you miserable? You can live among beautiful flowers and singing birds, or in the mire surrounded by frogs and toads. The amount of happiness which you can produce is incalculable, if you will show a smiling face, a kind heart, and speak pleasant words. On the other hand, by sour looks, cross words, and a fretful disposition, you can make hundreds unhappy almost beyond endurance. Which will you do? Wear a pleasant countenance, let joy beam in your eye, and love glow on your forehead. There is no joy so great as that which springs from a kind act or a pleasant deed, and you may feel it at night when you rest, and at morning when you rise, and through the day when about your daily business.

How to Prosper in Business.
In the first place, make up your minds to accomplish whatever you undertake; decide on some particular employment, and persevere in it. "All difficulties are overcome by diligence and assiduity." Be not afraid to work with your hands, and diligently too. "A cat in gloves catches no mice." "He who remains in the mill grinds, not he who comes and goes." Be frugal. "That which makes a man a pot, will make a pot lid." "Take care of the penny and the pounds will take care of themselves."
Rise early. "The sleeping fox catches no poultry."
"Plow deep,
While the sluggards sleep, And you will have corn to sell and keep."
Treat every one with respect and civility.
"Everything is gained and nothing lost by courtesy." "Good manners insure success." Never anticipate wealth coming from any other source than labor, and never place dependence on becoming possessor of an inheritance. "He who waits for a dead man's shoes, may go a long time barefooted." "He who runs after a shadow has a wearisome race." Above all things never despair. "God is where he was." "Heaven helps them that help themselves." Follow implicitly these precepts, and nothing can hinder you from accumulating.

KEEP IN GOOD HUMOR.—It is not great calamities that embitter existence; it is the petty vexations and small jealousies, the little disappointments, the minor miseries, that make the heart heavy and the temper sour. Don't let them, Anger is a pure waste of vitality; it is always foolish, and always disgraceful, except in some very rare cases, when it is kindled, by seeing wrong done to another; and even that noble rage seldom mends the matter.

A Pair of Fools.

In these days of Gift Enterprises, when experience is the only harvest of investment, the following note will be read with interest:

"Some years ago, when all the world were mad upon the lotteries, the cock of ambiged gentlemen drew from his hands the savings of some years. Her master, curious to know the cause, learned that she had repeatedly dreamed that a certain number was a great prize, and she had bought it.
He called her a fool for her pains, and never omitted an occasion to tease her upon the subject. One day, however, the master saw in the newspaper, or at his bookseller's country seat, that the number was actually the $20,000 prize. Cook was called up; a palaver ensued, had known each other for years, lot to part, etc.; in short, he proposes, and is accepted; insists on marriage being celebrated the next morning. Married they were, and as the ear-riage took them from the church they enjoyed the following dialogue:

"Well, May—two happy events in one day. You have married, I trust a good husband. You have something else—but first let me ask you have you looked up your lottery ticket?"
She, thinking that her master was only bantering her upon the old point, cried:

"Don't ye say no more about it. I thought how it would be, and that I should never hear the end of it; so I said it to the baker of our village for a gold coin; so you need never be angry with me again about that."

Robber Outwitted.

A short time since, an Irishman left Copperopolis, California, for San Andreas, with his sack on his back, and when about five miles on his way was met by a "road agent" (the name given in California to highway robbers), who demanded his money.
Pat immediately dropped his pack on the ground and sat down on it, and thus addressed the man:

"Holy Virgin, yez must be very thick along this road; I've only come five miles this morning, and this is the fourth time I've been stopped and axed for money."
"Is that so?" asked the highwayman.
"By my soul, it's the gospel truth," replied Pat.

"Well, then, you had better proceed on your way; it wouldn't pay 'to go through my ax."

Pat shouldered his carpet bag, and they were about to separate, when he turned round and said:

"Have ye ever such a thing about ye as a match to light me pipe wid?" He was supplied with one, and the two separated. The Irishman had five hundred dollars of gold coin in his bundle, and by this piece of shrewdness saved his money.

"This comes from Ohio.—We have for a townsman one Johnny G., who a number of years since left the 'bogs of Old Ireland' to seek his fortune in America. He found it in the form of a rich widow; and, as a consequence, he to day ranks himself among the 'big made misers' of the country.

Johnny, though small in stature, is very springy, and when promoted is apt to be somewhat elated. About two years since he was chosen marshal at a military funeral.
Every thing passed off satisfactorily until the procession was en route for the cemetery, when Johnny, who had been reviewing them as they passed, galloped to the head, and addressed the following Irish remark to the escort:

"Gintlemen! gintlemen! not quite so fast!
The corpse can't keep up wid ye!"

LUCK AND LABOR.—Luck is ever waiting for something to turn up. Labor, with keen eyes and strong will, will turn up something.

Luck lies in bed, and wishes the postman would bring him news of a legacy.— Labor turns out at six o'clock, and with busy pen or ringing hammer, lays the foundation of a competence.

Luck whines. Labor whistles.

Luck relies on chances. Labor, on character.

Luck slips downward to indolence.— Labor strides upwards, and to independence.

"A plain spoken western preacher delivered the following from his desk: 'I would announce to the congregation that, probably by mistake, there was left at this meeting house, this morning, a small cotton umbrella, much damaged by time and tear, and of an exceedingly pale color, in the place whereof was taken a very large black silk umbrella, and of great beauty. Blunders of this sort, brethren and sisters, are getting a little too common.'"

"If a man die, shall he live again?"
And once a year have the daisies waved it, and "spring's little infant" given its testimony, and every day has the morning testified, and yet the world is murmuring still, "If a man die, shall he live again?"

"At a church collection for missions the preacher said: 'My Christian brethren, let us caution those who put in buttons not
to break off the eyes; it spoils them for use, and they will not pass among the heathen for coins.'"

"They are fond of titles in the East.
Among his other high-sounding titles, the King of Ava has that of 'Lord of Twenty-four Umbrellas.' This looks as though he had prepared for a long reign."

"Other goods may have declined, but the rise of hoop skirts on the street is at times quite startling."

"If a lady yawns five times in succession, young man, you may get your hat
soon."

A Paradise in Pennsylvania.

Mrs. Eloise Hunt, of Heiner's Run, Clinton county, Pa., writes thus:

"My home has been for six years in a little rocky basin, shut in on every side by the Alleghenies, with a neighbor, a church, or school, seeing no human face for weeks—aye, even for months sometimes—except those of my husband and child living thus I have come to love in a strange, all absorbing way, all that nature has thrown around me. Earth, with its varied growth of trees and shrubs, plants and mosses, rocks and water, the clouds, blue sky and stars, everything is beautiful to me, even the dead leaves, the old decayed trees and bare rocks are beloved. Think, then, how inexpressibly dear the living trees and flowers and moving waters."

"I have tame trout, six yards from the door, which leap above the water to catch bits of meat from my fingers. The pheasants make their nests in sight of the house, and sometimes the male bird is seen drumming on an old log only a few rods up the mountain side. I have planted wild flowers behind my doors, and in summer the humming birds go through the open house on their visits to the flowers. Strangers from the world have said:

"How can you exist in this dreary place?"
"Their eyes cannot see as mine; nor hear the pleasant voices I hear, and so I simply tell them what they comprehend:
'It is my necessity.' My place, which is so lonely to others, is so pleasant to me that I have named it Paradise, and here I will teach my son a love of truth, purity and beauty."

A SCENE FROM OTHELLO.

On Friday afternoon a jealous husband stood waiting, at the corner of Market and Tenth streets, in Philadelphia, for the return of his wife, who had gone out riding with somebody else. The buggy drove up, and the husband seized his wife and threw her against a pile of bricks, and seizing an armful of the bricks began pelting her companion as he drove off. The irate spouse followed and contingued this amusement until the bricks gave out. Then he returned and his wife who was sitting on the doorstep waiting for him, greeted him with the question: "Now, don't you look prett?" His reply has not been recorded.

Things Worth Knowing.

Windows are kept free from ice, by brush-ing the glass with alcohol, with a paint or sponge. Obedience from boiling ham, cabbage, etc., are prevented by throwing red peppercorns, or a few pieces of charcoal into the pot. Percussion caps are found to be poison children, if swallowed. Pigeons are bathed in eighteen days; chickens, twenty-one; turkeys, twenty-six; ducks and geese, thirty. A cement, which is a good protection against weather, water, and fire, to a certain extent, is made by mixing a gallon of water with two gallons of brine, then stir in two and a half pounds of brown sugar, and three pounds of common salt; put it on with a brush like paint. Put potatoes of equal size into water while boiling; when done, pour the water, scatter in some salt, cover the pot with a coarse cloth, and return it to the fire for five minutes, when they are ready for the table; even watery potatoes are thus made delicious.

Cleanliness.
Ablution is positively necessary for the preservation of beauty and health. In the East, the bathers have in connection with their baths, that the beauties may continue to have soft and elastic skins, and by the tonic effect of cold water, health may be prolonged. Pimples, ulceration, and many imperfections of a light character may be removed by the use of the bath. By the removal of fecid matter from the surface of the skin, discoloration, black specks and roughness are often cured. It is astonishing how, till one examines, how many ladies go about with dirty faces—the dust being sometimes allowed to work into the very grain of the skin. Water often will not remove this, and where soap injures the skin, powdered ammonia dissolved in soft water should be kept in a bottle, and the mixture frequently used. It is a wonderful cleanser.

The ears especially (outside and inside) both of men and women, should be washed at least once a day. A dirty ear is horribly disgusting. Really such carelessness as dirty ears in a woman, would justify the abandonment of her lover, and have been good reason for a divorce. We hate even to speak of such things—but it is necessary.

Talking When Milking.
We have seen it noticed somewhere, that talking while milking is not good—that a cow will give less milk, &c. We think we can say we have had experience in this way.
It comes under the head of quack milking.
A fast milker is better than a slow. Talking is very apt to retard milking; not only that, but a skittish cow will be uneasy where too much ado is, where another person is present. We prefer milking alone, and as fast as possible. Quietude and contentment are great qualities in a cow. A wild cow is not generally a good one. If she is, she will be much better when tamed and domesticated.

"A widower who was accused of never having shed a tear on the occasion of his wife's death and burial, defended his conduct on the ground that she caused him to shed so many before her death that the briny fountain was utterly dry."

"According to the proverb of the Jews, 'Michael lies with but one wing, and Gabriel with two.' God is quick in sending angels of peace, and they fly space; but the messenger of wrath comes slowly; God is more hasty to glorify His servants than to condemn the wicked."

"If a lady yawns five times in succession, young man, you may get your hat
soon."

"If a man die, shall he live again?"
And once a year have the daisies waved
it, and "spring's little infant" given its
testimony, and every day has the morning
testified, and yet the world is murmuring
still, "If a man die, shall he live again?"

let us caution those who put in buttons not
to break off the eyes; it spoils them for
use, and they will not pass among the
heathen for coins.'"

Comical Scene in a Church.

[From the Newark (N. J.) Courier.] On Sabbath last, in one of our prominent Broad street churches, the closeness of the atmosphere produced an almost irresistible feeling of drowsiness among many of the congregation. Of the number who found it impossible to deny the drowsy god was one of our most successful business men, whose honest efforts to throw off the somni-luc influence he was under were witnessed by several lookers on. At last he succumbed; his eyes went shut and failed to come open again, and his head began to nod to and fro and neighbor quite familiarly.— Presently the sleeper's head slowly bent toward his owner's wife, and continued to sag, sag, sag, in that direction, until a directly sprig on my lady's hat pointed delicately into the ear of the snoring husband. One more lurch of the head on "that lurch" would cause the tapering sprig to enter, and peculiarly affect the sensitive portion of that delicate organ, and several persons in the gallery were giving breathless attention to the scene, fully anticipating an extraordinary denouement when the connection between the ear and the sprig should be effected. At last it came, the heavy head made another sag wide-ward a full inch, the sprig passed into the ear as nearly as if it had been pointed by roughish hands, and penetrating to the inner and most sensitive portion, tickled the nodding gentleman so intensely that he drew up his head with a jerk, and striking out with his right hand before he was fairly awake, devoted his wife a blow full upon her nose bonnet, to the utter discomfiture of its flowers and ribbons, and to the infinite amusement of the lookers on in the gallery. But who can describe the look of ineffable sheepishness that settled upon the face of the late sleeper, when he became fully conscious of the ridiculousness of his position. Wife looked savage, in evident inward contemplation of the dan-gered bonnet, and both were seen hastening home after service by way of a back street. We wouldn't have had the "caudle" our hero received when he reached there for all the reputation won by the author of "Rock me to Sleep."

A Variagated Villain.

Of Dr. Craven's career in the army we find the following singular episode: Every spare moment of Craven's time was employed in making collections of rare insects, fishes, herbs, and geographical specimens of other curiosities for his own or the Smithsonian Museum. Once, when a very soundly dejected, convicted of going over to the enemy, and other crimes too abominable to be mentioned, was shot to death with musketry," in pursuance with his sentence, Dr. Craven obtained the privilege of skinning him and tanning his hide—the skin itself tattooed all over while the fellow was a sailor, with pictures too blasphemous and obscenely horrible for contemplation, being a dreadful commentary on the multiform crimes and offenses of which the soul therein dwelling had been greedily guilty. On his breast was our Saviour suspended on the cross, tattooed in various colors, and on each side of it men and women—and even worse than this—in every conceivable attitude of public shame. It was, also, I have heard—for I did not see the execution—all over the rest of body; and certainly such a hide, with the eighteen holes in it, through which nine bullets entered and passed out, is no bad sermon on such a life as had been led by the villain.

A War Relic.

The Boston Journal says: "In a farm house near the Kennebec there hangs a frame and glass containing a piece of blue silk on which is a gilt star. Its history is this: A son of the family was one of the color guard of the Sixteenth Maine regiment at the battle of Gettysburg. Finding that they were to be captured, and being unwilling that the flag should fall into the hands of the enemy, the guard tore it up and concealed the pieces. The piece to which we allude was kept concealed by the young man during the time he was in rebel prison, and when he was released he sent it home to his father, who had it framed and gilded. The son was afterwards mortally wounded at Hatcher's Run, and the family kept the piece of flag as a memorial of him, and the tenacity with which he aided in keeping the stars from falling into the hands of the rebels."

Pointed Advice.

Gov. Morton, in his Indianapolis speech, said:

"And here let me address a word to the young men of Indiana. You are just starting in life, with the world all before you, where and how to choose. Beware how you connect your fortunes with a decayed and dishonored party, indelibly stained with treason, and upon whose tombstone the historian will write, 'False to liberty, false to its country, and false to the age in which it lived.' The Democratic party has committed a crime for which history has no pardon, and the memories of men forgetfulless; whose colors grow darker from age to age, and for which the excretions of manhood become more bitter from generation to generation."

A Queer Country is China.

A country where roses have no fragrance and woman no pretension; where the laborer has no Sabbath and the magistrate no sense of honor; where the roads bear no vehicles and the ships no keels; where old men fly kites and the needle points to the South; where the place of honor is on the left hand and the seat of intellect is in the stomach; where to take off your hat is an insolent gesture and to wear white garments is mourning; which has a literature without a grammar, and a language without a grammar.

THE SILVER SKIRT!
MORE DURABLE, MORE ELASTIC, MORE GRACEFUL! And will keep its Shape and retain its Place better than any other Skirt.
This new and beautiful style of Skirt (Patented March 7, 1865), was awarded by the Great American Institute Fair, held in New York, October, 1865.
A SILVER MEDAL! the highest premium ever given for a Hoop Skirt.
The Steel Springs are wound with a fine plated wire (in place of a cotton covering) which will not wear off or become soiled, and the whole Skirt may be washed without injury or fear of rusting, and will be as good as new.
THE COMBINATION SILVER SKIRT! This invention combines with the ordinary cotton Skirt the advantages of our Silver Skirt; the bottom hoops are the same as those used in the Silver Skirt, the covering of which cannot wear off, while the upper ones are covered with cotton. No lady having once worn one of our Skirts will be willing to wear any other, as the lower hoops of all other kinds are soon injured and soiled.
The best materials are used in their construction, and from their durability and neatness, they are destined to become A FAVORITE SKIRT.
Manufactured solely by the Silver Skirt and Wire Manufacturing Company, 30 & 32 Barclay Street, New York.

FOR NON RETENTION or INCONTINENCE, of Urine, Irritation, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Prostate Gland, Stone in the Bladder, Calculus, Gravel or Brick Dust Deposit, and all Diseases of the Bladder, Kidneys, and Prostatic Swellings.
HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU FOR WEAKNESS ARISING FROM EXCESSIVE OR INDISCRETION.
The Constitution once affected with Organic Weakness, requires the aid of medicine to strengthen and invigorate the system, which Helmbold's Extract Buchu invariably does, if no treatment be submitted to, Consumption or Insanity ensues.
HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU AND IMPROVED ROSE WASH Will radically exterminate from the system diseases of the Urinary Organs arising from Habits of Dissipation at little expense, little or no change in diet, and no exposure; completely superseding those unpleasant and dangerous remedies, Copraiva and Mercury, in curing all these unpleasant and dangerous diseases.
USE
HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU
In all cases of the Urinary Organs, whether existing in male or female, from whatever cause originating, and no matter of how long standing. It is pleasant in taste and odor, immediate in its action, and more strengthening than any of the preparations of Bark or Iron.
Those suffering from Broken-down or Delicate Constitutions, procure the remedy at once.
The reader must be aware that however slight may be the attack of the above disease, it is certain to affect his bodily health, mental powers, and happiness, and that of his posterity. Our flesh and blood are supported from these sources.
PHYSICIANS, PLEASE NOTICE.
We make no secret of the ingredients.—Helmbold's Fluid Extract Buchu is composed of Buchu, Cubels and Juniper Berries, selected with great care, and prepared in vacuo by H. T. Helmbold, Druggist and Chemist of sixteen years' experience in the city of Philadelphia, and which is now prescribed by the most eminent physicians, has been admitted to use in the United States Army, and is also in very general use in Sea Hospitals and public Sanitary Institutions throughout the land.

BUCHU.
(From Dispensary of the United States.)
DIOSMA ORNATA. BUCHU LEAVES PROPERTIES.—Their odor is strong, diffusive, and somewhat aromatic; their tastes bitterish, and analogous to mint.
MEDICAL PROPERTIES AND USES.—Buchu leaves are gently stimulants, with a peculiar tendency to the Urinary Organs, producing diuresis, and like other similar medicines, exerting a purgative effect, when circumstances favor this mode of action.
They are given in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, Chronic Catarrh of the Bladder, Morbid Irritation of the Prostate, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. The remedy has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, Chronic Rheumatism, Cutaneous Affections, and Dropsy.
Helmbold's Extract Buchu is used by persons from the ages 18 to 25, and from 35 to 55, or in the decline or change of life; after Containment or Labor Pains; Bed-wetting in children.
Dr. Keyser is a Physician of over thirty years' experience, and a graduate of the Jefferson Medical College and of the University of Medicine and Surgery of Philadelphia.
MR. T. HELMBOLD.
Dear Sir:—In regard to the question asked me by you in relation to Buchu, I would say that I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years. I do not think there is any past history or preparation of it I have not used or known to be used in the various diseases where such medicine agent would be indicated. You are aware, as well as myself, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys, and the reputation it has acquired in my judgment is warranted by the facts.
I have seen and used, as before stated every form of Buchu—the powdered leaves, the simple decoction, tincture, fluid extract, and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all equal to yours. Twelve years of experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits, and without prejudice or partiality, I give your precedence over all others. I do not value a thing according to its bulk, if it did other Buchu would out-do yours, but I hold to the doctrine that bulk and quantity do not make up value—if they did a copper cent would be worth more than a gold dollar.
I value your Buchu for its effect on patients. I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other Buchu, or any other proprietary compound of whatever name. Respectfully, yours, &c.

The Crops, &amp;c., in the South.

The Assistant Commissioner of Freedmen's Affairs reports that there is much greater area of land under cultivation this year than there was at the beginning of the rebellion, and the quantity of land planted in cotton is much greater than the usual crop put in in Tennessee. As a general rule, the freed people are faithfully performing their contracts, though in some few of the counties they are disposed to wander about from one employer to another, and break their engagements lightly; and the people are making quite liberal contracts with the freedmen, treat them very well, and evince a disposition to do them justice. There are some exceptions to this rule, but even these show a marked improvement when compared with the condition of affairs one year ago.

SAD CASE OF DROWNING.—Wm Crawford, Esq., of the firm of Dunlop & Crawford, tobacco merchants of Petersburg, Va., was drowned last Saturday, near Sandy Hook, New York. It appears he went to New York and engaged passage for Europe intending to pay a visit to his mother and family in Scotland, whom he had not seen for many years. His health, however, compelled him to forego the trip, and he took passage for Petersburg in the steamer "Hatteras," with the view of spending some time at the Virginia Springs. Before reaching Sandy Hook he became seasick, and while leaning over the railing of the boat, accidentally fell overboard, and notwithstanding every effort made for his rescue, he was drowned.

A VIOLENT DISEASE.—Of a family of six persons, in Philadelphia, all of whom recently returned from a pleasure trip in a sailboat on the Delaware river violently ill, five have died. It seems they took on board a bundle of clothing which they found floating on the river, probably thrown overboard from some vessel on which there was a contagious disease. Violent retching and fever were the forms of the disease, and after death the bodies assumed a dark purple hue. The Philadelphia papers question whether it was not cholera that carried the m off.

The hail storm in Northern Illinois last week, was very destructive, and the hail stones were beyond precedent. One was picked up in Lanark three and a half inches in circumference and over one inch thick. A peck was gathered up of nearly that size in Lanark. Over four thousand lights were broken out at Blackberry Station. Hardly a whole light of glass was left to town. In Elgin several thousand lights of glass were smashed, the hail stones being seven inches in circumference. In the track of the storm, which was about a mile wide, corn and oats were completely cut down, and garden vegetables destroyed.

A Repentant Criminal.

Two months ago the house of Gabriel Schmuck, of Canaan, county clerk of Perry county, Kentucky, was broken open by a thief and robbed of seventy-five dollars in money, a gold watch, and a large lot of clothing. Diligent search was made for the thief, without success at the time. It now turns out that the robber was W. B. Watson, under sentence of death for the murder of Capt. Menter, of Newport, Ky. Watson has written the following letter to Mr. Schmuck:

Newport, Ky., July 9, 1866.—To the Clerk of the County Court.—Sir: I wish to repair as far as possible a great wrong which I did you some time ago in robbing your house. I send by Adams Express a carpet sack with your coat, pants, vest, pistol and silver watch. Your gold watch I traded off to a jeweller in Louisville; his shop is on Main, right side going up, near Preston street, kept by an Irishman. The ring I gave away in Jeffersonville to a woman. I wish I could return it, as I suppose, by its beauty and value, it was a keep sake. I went to your house to get the keys of the safe in your office, which I believed contained a large sum of money; but after taking your pistol and other things out on the porch, I went back to the door and stood and looked at your pretty and innocent little babe and wife, and my heart failed me. I could not run the risk of shooting one of them, or yourself, in trying to get the keys, as I supposed they were in the bureau, on the opposite side of the room, and in getting the drawers open I should wake up some of you, and I should have to shoot you, as I supposed you would fight to protect the trust placed in your charge. So I thought I would rather go off without accomplishing my object than run the risk of shedding innocent blood.

Dear sir, I feel it a duty to caution you about leaving the light burning in your house at night, as it lets a burglar see how to work and watch at the same time, and gives him great advantage when in; and do not leave your pistol in reach of any one but yourself. If all the windows and doors were properly fastened and lights put out at night it would be much harder for burglars to effect an entrance, and consequently give the people a chance to hear the soter.

Dear sir, I have done all in my power to recompense you for the loss sustained by you. I have no property or money to give. If I had one million of dollars I would freely give it all, if it would satisfy you and Mr. Menter's family. I am now under sentence of death for shooting Mr. Menter with the same pistol I took from you. You have read the account in the paper. I shall be executed on the 31st of August.

My dear sir, can you forgive me for what I have done to you? I sir, will soon be standing before the Great Judge to answer for all my sins which I have committed in all my life. I am sincerely trying to make my peace with God; I pray night and day. Oh! may I not receive a forgiving letter from you and your wife? I would lighten my heart greatly to know that I was freely forgiven by you. W. B. WATSON.

A. M. A. J. Whipp, of Covington, Ky., was arrested last week for whipping a negro girl, and fined $50. He claimed that as the child was in his employment he had a right to whip her as much as he pleased, and refused to pay the fine, whereupon he was committed to the care of General Jeff. C. Davis, at Louisville. The affidavit in the case stated that the girl was stripped entirely naked and whipped with a rawhide for fifteen minutes, leaving her back badly lacerated.

On the 23d of July Mr. Nathan Belden, of Hartford, Conn., cut his throat while laboring under a temporary fit of insanity. He died last Thursday morning, without apparent suffering, having lived a little over eleven days after having committed the deed. The last food he ate was on the Saturday evening previous, so that he lived for about twelve days without food or nourishment of any kind. It is one of the most remarkable instances on record. Mr. Belden was fifty-six years of age.

As the Elmira express train south was leaving the depot in York a few days since, and had proceeded but a short distance through, an engineer discovered a man lying with his head on the track and instantly sounded the alarm for "down break." The train, however, could not be stopped till the unfortunate man was seen to go under the "pilot," and of course it was supposed would be horribly mangled, if not crushed to death. A crowd soon gathered around the engine, while the conductor sped back to the depot to summon the coroner. Strange to relate, after the man was removed from among the machinery and placed near the track, he was found to be unharmed save a badly torn coat. He raised himself on elbow and inquired: "What is all this crowd doing here?" On being told of his narrowly escaping death, he got upon his feet and staggered off, exclaiming: "I'm much obliged to you, gentlemen, for getting me out of that fix." The man's name was Welsh, and he was under the influence of whiskey.

A Georgia paper publishes an account of a cattle stampede which occurred lately at a large cattle fair in Le Blane. Just as business was at its height a sudden panic seized the oxen brought there for sale, which, to the number of more than twelve hundred, set off at a furious speed in every direction, overthrowing every thing in their way. At last they came to a wall and hedge enclosing a field, both of which were borne down by the shock, and the animals escaped into the country around. As the ground on the outside of the fence was about four feet lower than on the inside, eight oxen fell on each other, carrying with them six or eight persons, who happened to be near the spot. At the foot of the wall two men were found crushed to death and four others severely injured. Two oxen were killed. Seventeen persons received less serious hurts by being thrown down and trampled upon.

The Empress Eugenie is said to have as great a faith in her star as the first Emperor had in his. She is extremely superstitious, and wears an amulet as a preventive against "catching diseases." In cholera, or other epidemics, which will have the Emperor wear a little flannel bag, filled with camphor, suspended round his neck, to which the Emperor submits with the best grace.

Rev. Samuel Gutelius, some years ago pastor of the German Reformed Church in this place, died at Lykenstown, Pa., on the 17th of July, of paralysis. He was aged 70 years 9 months and 25 days.

Rev. Dr. Nevins has been appointed President of Franklin & Marshall College, at Lancaster, in the place of Rev. Dr. Gehring, who has held the situation for ten or twelve years. The latter takes a lower Chair.

Col. Stambaugh, of Franklin, has been re-nominated for the Legislature.

AN APPRENTICE

To learn the Printing business, will be taken at this Office—a youth of moral and industrious habits—having a good English education.

The date of the inner head of our paper last week was not changed. Instead of July 31, it should have been Aug. 7.

Gen. Wm. H. Koontz.

All the Counties of the District having declared for Gen. Koontz as the Union candidate for Congress, a conference is thought unnecessary—and the Union papers have placed his name in the list of Union nominations.

His opponent, it appears, will be Mr. Sharpe, of Franklin—he having eluded Mr. Coffroth and Mr. McSherry off the course. We have but little doubt of the re-election of our highly creditable representative, Gen. Koontz.

Mr. Houck.

The Harrisburg Telegraph, noticing the re-nomination of Mr. Houck by this County, says:

"Mr. Houck, the nominee for the Legislature

(by the Republicans of Adams) was a member of the last House. He is a man of sound practical abilities whose return to the Assembly will prove a benefit to his immediate constituents and those of the State at large."

The Democratic Congressional Conference met at McAllister's, in Fulton county, on Thursday last. Twenty-five ballots were had without a nomination; but on the 26th ballot the Adams county conferees left Mr. McSherry and went over to J. McDowell Sharpe, of Chambersburg, and he was nominated. Our friend Coffroth will not like this result, as he was full of hopes.

They appear to have "ugly" times in Carlisle, from a paragraph in the Herald. On Saturday night week, two strangers from Perry county were knocked down in the street, cruelly beaten and robbed; and later, about one o'clock on Sunday morning, a man from Plainfield was knocked down near the Court-house, and an attempt made to rob him of his watch.

He made fight, and succeeded in escaping with a severe beating. Three young men of Carlisle have been arrested for these outrages.

Money Order Office.

The Postmaster General has made the Gettysburg Post office a Money Order office. This will prove a great convenience to our citizens. Persons wishing to send small amounts of money to any portion of the United States, not exceeding $50, they can safely effect their purpose by depositing the money in the Post office here, receiving an order for the amount to be paid by the Postmaster of the place to which it is sent. The fees charged are 10 cents for amounts not exceeding $20; over $20 and not exceeding $50, 25 cts.

Pis Nio.

The Sunday School connected with the Catholic church had a picnic at Wolf's Spring on Wednesday last. Young and old enjoyed themselves highly.

Horse Stolen.

A fine horse was stolen from Md. Culbertson, in Carroll's Tract, work before last. The thief was pursued to Frederick, where he was arrested, and the horse recovered.

Rev. Samuel Gutelius, some years ago pastor of the German Reformed Church in this place, died at Lykenstown, Pa., on the 17th of July, of paralysis. He was aged 70 years 9 months and 25 days.

Rev. Dr. Nevins has been appointed

President of Franklin &amp; Marshall College, at Lancaster, in the place of Rev. Dr. Gehring, who has held the situation for ten or twelve years. The latter takes a lower Chair.

Col. Stambaugh, of Franklin, has been re-nominated for the Legislature.

COMMENCEMENT WEEK.

THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY AND PENN-SYLVANIA COLLEGE.

While the war cloud hung over our land, literary institutions, in common with most else that was not closely connected with military affairs, suffered a diminution of interest, especially at their anniversaries. The College and Seminary, located here, were no exceptions to this. The Commencement last year, being the first since the war, gave evidence that the interest had been but suspended, not lost, and the attendance at the exercises, last week, not only confirmed it, but showed that the enthusiasm and interest of former years was reproduced.

The exercises commenced on Sabbath morning, the 8th, with

THE BACCALAUREATE ADDRESS

by the President, Rev. H. L. Baugher, D. D., in the College Church. His subject was the "Progress of the Gospel," making the basis of his discourse: Rev. 21: 3: "And he that sat upon the throne said: Behold, I make all things new." "The speaker is Christ," began the Dr., "the son of God, and the Saviour of sinners. The work which he performs, is renovation, making new; and that which he thus transforms, is all things." First, a look at this Great Being, in the work which he is accomplishing, and then evidences of progress in the attainment of the wonderful end, were the points treated. Apparent or real drawbacks, which seem to arrest the onward movement of the world, it was shown, might be safely viewed in an opposite light. In conclusion, the reverend speaker remarked, that in the present condition of the world, it was the duty of those who are made partakers of the blessings of science and Christianity to carry forward the scientific investigations already begun, that the knowledge of God may be extended to his glory; to thoroughly study the word of God, that we may know his doctrines, and practice the duties it enjoins; and finally to educate the living minister and send him forth, for the conversion of the world.

Monday evening had been set apart for the Annual Address before the Alumni of the Theological Seminary, but the speaker selected, Rev. H. Bishop, of Maryland, was unable to be present.

Tuesday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, was delivered

THE "HOLMAN" LECTURE ON THE ATGERSBERG

CONFESSION.

The founder of a course of lectures, on this ancient symbol of the Lutheran Church, of which this is the first, was the Rev. Samuel A. Holman, of Altoona, Pa., who bestowed a sum of money, the interest of which is to be annually devoted to a Lecture on one of the Articles of the Confession, himself to select the lecturer, who is at liberty to choose any Article provided it may not have previously been chosen, until all have been once lectured upon. It is the first instance of a foundation of the kind in the United States, or indeed as far as is known, in the world. The first lecturer chosen was the Rev. J. Allen Brown, Professor in the Seminary. In an able and scholarly manner, Dr. Brown commented upon and elucidated the first Article. When published, as is the design, it will be a valuable acquisition to the literature of the Church.

Rev. Dr. Sprecher, President of Wittenberg College, has been selected as the next lecturer. In the evening, Rev. Dr. C. A. Day, and Rev. Milton Valentine, were inaugurated Professors in the Seminary, the former of Hebrew Philology and Exegesis, and the latter of Biblical and Church History. The charge was delivered by Rev. Dr. Lochman, of York, President of the Board of Directors, after which the usual obligation was taken, by the Professors elect, and their Inaugural Addresses pronounced, which were clear and comprehensive statements of the character and duties of their respective departments.

At their meeting, the Board of Directors extended the course of instruction to three years, instead of two, as heretofore. A change of sessions was also made. Hereafter there will be but one session, beginning the last of September and continuing till the last of June.

On Wednesday morning, came off the JUNIOR EXHIBITION.

At 8 o'clock, the Faculty and Literary Societies of the College, preceded by Keffe's Band of Lancaster, walked in procession from the College building, to Christ's Church, where the exercises occurred, in the following order: Prayer—By Rev. burg, Md.

ville, Md.

tland.

Poem—Attire of the Philani—P. H. Schaefer, Limerick.

Benediction—By President Baugher.

Where all the speeches were good, and opinions differ so much as to which was the best, it would be tedious to give an individual opinion. The young gentlemen deserve credit for the care and attention they bestowed both upon the composition and delivery of their productions. It has been remarked that the poem by Mr. Schaefer is worthy of publication. The Lancaster Orchestra, on this occasion, as subsequently, delighted all by the sweet music they discoursed.

DR. CYLER'S ADDRESS.

The Biennial Address before the Philomathan Society was delivered to a crowded and spell-bound house, in the evening. The speaker was the noted Rev. Theo. L. Cyler, D.

D., of Brooklyn, N. Y. To attempt to give an adequate description of the address and its effect would be useless. "The Orator of Nature" was his subject, and for an hour and twenty minutes he kept the profound attention of his promiscuous audience, and was repeatedly interrupted by bursts of applause, as he made some oratorical flight, a witicism, or a patriotic allusion. What he said was of an emphatically practical nature, and just the thing for the Society and students. He showed most conclusively that he best accomplished the true end of oratory—persuasion—who adhered most closely to nature. Two Laconic rules were given for the public speaker: Feel everything; fear nothing. Our own Webster, the English Lord Brougham, and distinguished pulpit orators were adduced as examples of the eloquent, and their peculiar excellences pointed out. Almost every one, no doubt, was struck with the idea, that the distinguished speaker himself was a living, present example of "the orator of nature."

MEETING OF THE ALUMNI.

The Alumni Association held their meeting, after the exercises, on Wednesday evening, Hon. Edw. McPherson presiding. The ordinary record was read, from which we learn that the following graduates have died during the year:

Rev. Wm. D. Bagdell, Class of 1848.
Daniel Garver, " 1850.
Abraham Long, " 1851.
J. A. Krueger, " 1852.
Franklin B. Wolf, " 1853.
Abraham H. Groll, " 1850.
F. A. Kist, " 1852.

A letter was read from Rev. V. L. Conrad, who was to address the association, regretting that he would be unable to do so, on account of sickness. Dr. Stover, from the Committee on the Alumni Professorship, reported progress—About six thousand dollars has already been collected for its endowment. The Committee to prepare a military record of the Alumni were authorized to publish their report with any additional facts they may obtain. Pennsylvania College may well feel proud of her under-graduates, as well as Alumni, for the part they have taken in the war for the Union. Many good soldiers, some of whom have occupied positions of rank, some of whom now fill hallowed graves, having been sacrificed on their country's altar, have shed lustre upon the fair fame of their ALMA MATER, by their deeds of heroism. The citizens of Gettysburg remember, when the traitors invaded our State in 1863, how almost all who were then in College, at once laid aside the gown and books for the knapsack and musket, and hastened to the Capital, for organization, to resist their progress. When the report is published it will doubtless be seen that this College is not unrepresented by any institution, in the sacrifices of heroes for their country. The election of officers for the ensuing year resulted in the choice of Hon. Edward McPherson as President, Dr. M. L. Stover, Secretary, H. J. Fahnstock, Esq., Treasurer. Rev. V. L. Conrad was chosen orator for the next meeting.
